

Story Mapping Sentence Openers

Beginning	Build-up	Problem	Resolution	Ending
Deep in the forest...	The worst was yet to come...	To their amazement...	When they finally got the heavy door open...	Everything had returned to how it was meant to be...
The first thing she noticed was...	As they crept closer...	Just when they thought they were safe...	As the ferocious storm began to clear...	It slowly disappeared into the shadows...
As soon as I read the letter, I knew...	Everywhere they turned...	They realised they weren't alone...	To their relief...	He had finally found exactly what he was looking for...
The storm was growing stronger than ever...	A chill ran down his spine as...	Before they could think...	The magical spell was broken...	They had faced their fears and survived...
As soon as the clock struck midnight...	The sky was turning darker by the second...	With a deafening crash...	As the sun set after a long, tiring day...	At last, the mystery had been solved...
Walking along the exotic beach...	As the clock ticked...	A spine-chilling voice whispered...	She bravely faced her fears...	All was quiet now...
The sky darkened as a shadow grew closer...	The further they went...	The wall of flames covered the path...	It suddenly became clear...	Everyone in the town celebrated for days...
It all began when we found...	The warning signs were everywhere...	The ground shook so violently...	He realised what he had to do...	They returned home as heroes...
Back when animals could talk...	The door creaked open...	The spell backfired...	There was only one choice...	Everything had changed now...
He was sprinting home to tell her parents...	They carefully climbed the creaky stairs...	The entrance was blocked...	They had finally found...	She realised she would never forget this adventure...
A deafening noise woke them from their beds...	They had no choice...	The moment they opened the door...	The terrifying monster let out a final roar...	As they rode off into the sunset...
I could not believe what I was seeing...	Step by step...	Everyone began to panic...	The first rays of sunshine broke through the clouds...	The mission was complete...